CONFERENCE AND GUIDE FOR @LL

- Conference Signage
- Conference Manager
- Conference Information

□ Demonstrate your competence in the area of conferencing

The success of a conference stands or falls by the quality of its organisation. Professional administration of the available venues in advance is as important here as effective and appealing signage during the event itself.

Are you looking to professionally manage your conferences and events?

We make sure that you're ideally equipped to handle room booking and signage by installing a digital signage solution that's best suited to the needs of your hotel – from a simple stand-alone solution to complex installations for large site networks.

➤ We provide the solution best suited to your hotel's needs.

□ All venues on screen – eSign

The right room at the right time: The eSign booking system is the professional and simple way for you to find a suitable room for your guests that's available. It also allows you to optimise utilisation of your venues and realise time and cost savings – for example, by automatically updating room signage.

The eSign room booking system offers you significant benefits, such as:

- a web-based user interface,
- the reservation of additional resources (technology, catering, etc.),
- data exchange with existing resource administration systems,
- user administration and rights management,
- automated linking of door plates in real time,
- and much more besides

➤ Make a professional impression on your guests.

□ Smart placement of all content – easescreen

It's important for hosts and guests alike that all the relevant information about the events is up to date and well placed. easescreen digital signage software allows you to display and manage all types of content in a time-controlled and fully automated way on any number of displays.

The easescreen integrated software solution contains numerous features, such as:

- simple, intuitive content management and time control,
- user and access management,
- redundancy,
- dynamically generated content from databases,
- direct integration of eSign room booking information,
- and much more besides

➤ Attract the right kind of attention – simply and flexibly.

□ Provide the perfect overview

It's important for the feel-good factor that conference participants are able to find their rooms at the venue quickly and easily. Well-placed and well-thought-out information displays and room signage ensure that your guests reach their destination swiftly.

Our portfolio of products covers all conceivable variations:

- displays
- overview boards
- pillars

Regardless of dimension or design – we supply the components you need for your hotel.

➤ Increase your guests' satisfaction with the help of our consultation service.
